The full sequence

Day 0 · LinkedIn Connect

Channel: LinkedIn | Timing: Send immediately

Connection request note:

Hi {{first_name}} - I help mushroom and functional-wellness brands run compliant Meta/Google ads without the disapprovals. Would love to connect.

Day 1 · Email 1 — The Opener

Channel: Email | Timing: Wait 1 day

Subject: Quick question about your ad approvals

Hi {{first_name}},

How often do {{company}}'s ads get disapproved for reasons that don't seem to make sense?

I'm Cameron, co-founder of Transparent eCom. We help regulated brands get compliant ads live on Meta and Google - no blurring, no bans, no workarounds.

Mushroom and functional-wellness brands sit in a frustrating grey zone - flagged like a restricted product even when the creative is fully compliant. Most teams respond by softening copy and resubmitting, which rarely fixes it, because the problem usually starts with the account setup, not the ad.

We run compliant ad accounts built for exactly these grey-zone categories, so campaigns get approved and stay live.

If that's {{company}}'s situation, worth a conversation. Book a call here.

Best,

Cameron Karkut

Day 3 · SMS 1 — The Nudge

Channel: SMS | Timing: Wait 2 days

Text message:

Hey {{first_name}}, just emailed you about getting {{company}}'s mushroom/wellness ads approved and keeping them live. Worth a quick look?

Day 5 · Email 2 — How It Works

Channel: Email | Timing: Wait 2 days

Subject: Why the disapprovals keep happening

Hi {{first_name}},

Following up - here's what most brands in this space never get told plainly.

The disapproval usually isn't about the ad. It's the account underneath it: verification, domain and tracking setup, payment standing, and how policy-aligned every asset is. Teams spend weeks rewriting copy and resubmitting, and it still gets flagged - because the creative was never the real issue.

We run compliance-built accounts designed to clear review from the start, so you're not fighting the same battle every launch.

Short deck walks through it - read here. (use trigger link: `{{trigger_link.7UI7BG20vv4l4VsNpYQj}}`) If a call is easier, grab 30 min here.

Day 7 · Voicemail 1

Channel: Voicemail | Timing: Wait 2 days

Ringless voicemail script (~20–25 sec):

Hey `{{first_name}}`, this is Cameron from Transparent eCom. Quick one - how often do `{{company}}`'s ads get disapproved for reasons that don't quite make sense? Mushroom and wellness brands get flagged like restricted products even when they're compliant. The fix usually isn't the creative — it's the account underneath. We build accounts made for exactly these grey-zone categories. Give me a call back at number — again, number. Thanks.

Day 9 · LinkedIn DM 1

Channel: LinkedIn | Timing: Wait 2 days

LinkedIn message:

Hi `{{first_name}}` - reached out by email but figured LinkedIn might be easier.

We keep mushroom and functional-wellness brands' ad accounts approved and live on Meta/Google. Happy to send a short case study - worth a quick chat?

Day 11 · Email 3 — The Proof

Channel: Email | Timing: Wait 2 days

Subject: How we keep grey-zone brands live

Hi `{{first_name}}`,

Sharing something relevant.

We run ads for edibles, gummy, and functional-mushroom brands in exactly `{{company}}`'s position, where disapprovals and shaky account standing were capping growth.

On compliance-built accounts, brands see a 40% higher approval rate than standard and stay with us 16 months on average - without the constant approval battles. The difference was the account infrastructure, not softer copy.

If a call feels like too much right now, we also just published our 2026 Meta & Google Ad Compliance Checklist - the exact framework we use to keep accounts alive. Download the checklist here. Or grab 30 min and I'll map it to {{company}}.

Day 13 · SMS 2 — Follow-up Bump

Channel: SMS | Timing: Wait 2 days

Text message:

Hey {{first_name}} - still happy to show you how we get mushroom/wellness ads approved and keep them live. Quick call this week? Book here.

Day 15 · Email 4 — The Direct Ask

Channel: Email | Timing: Wait 2 days

Subject: 30 minutes to fix the disapprovals?

Hi {{first_name}},

To keep this simple:

- No minimum ad spend required.
- We review your actual account with you before anything changes, at no cost.
- Send us an ad you've struggled to get approved - we'll show you exactly what it takes to run it.

I'd rather show you than keep describing it. Grab 30 min here.

Best,
Cameron Karkut

Day 17 · LinkedIn DM 2

Channel: LinkedIn | Timing: Wait 2 days

LinkedIn message:

Hi {{first_name}} - circling back. If disapprovals are capping {{company}}'s growth, I'd love 15 min to show you how we keep grey-zone brands approved and live.

Day 19 · Voicemail 2

Channel: Voicemail | Timing: Wait 2 days

Ringless voicemail script (~20–25 sec):

Hey {{first_name}}, Cameron from Transparent eCom again. Still think there's a real fit for {{company}} — we keep mushroom and wellness brands approved and live by fixing the account, not just softening copy. If it's worth a look, call me at number. Again, number. Thanks.

Day 21 · SMS 3 — Final Bump

Channel: SMS | Timing: Wait 2 days

Text message:

{{first_name}}, last nudge - want the breakdown on fixing {{company}}'s disapprovals, or should I close this out?

Day 23 · Email 5 — The Breakup

Channel: Email | Timing: Wait 2 days

Subject: Should I close this out?

Hi {{first_name}},

I've reached out a few times about getting {{company}}'s ads approved and keeping them live, and wanted to check whether this is worth pursuing now or better revisited later.

This tends to matter most for mushroom, edibles, and functional-wellness brands that run Meta/Google ads, hit disapprovals, and want campaigns that actually stay live.

Here's a quick read on how we do it. ((use trigger link: {{trigger_link.7UI7BG20vv4l4VsNpYQj}}))

If the timing isn't right, that's completely fine - just let me know and I'll follow up accordingly.

Best,
Cameron Karkut
